Again requesting meeting – focus is on priorities of tasks and timing.

Nina's email summarized the general issue quite well, although as a misstatement of fact: case team is working in trying connect PADEP and Nonresponsive based on revised scope while working on developing a referral. The first phrase of the statement is accurate.

Due to other priorities, the case team has not begun working on developing a referral.

I believe you misunderstood what i briefly wrote. I was not asking you to add anything to TEAMs site. I have been adding cards to TEAMS myself since we started.

Cecil and Donna,

I'm surprised by the personal note to me indicating that I had not done something that I did not realize that I needed to do – due to the status of the particular matter.

The decision to include such a note in a large group email, rather than an individual email to me and Nina, is unfortunate.

ORC moral might improve if ORC managers', baseless or justified, public humiliation of staff was minimized.
